THE GOOD OLD PLOUGH.

AS SUNG BY HURCHINSON. Let them sing who may of the battle fray And the deeds that have long since passed; Let them channt in praise of the tar whose days Are spent on the occan vast.

I would render to these all the worship you please I would honor thenf even now:

But I'd give full more from my heart's full store To the cause of the Good Old Plough.

Let them laud the notes that in rapple float, Through the bright and glittering halls While the amorous twirl of the hair's bright curl, Round the shoulder of beauty falls; But dear to me is the song of the free,

And the rich and blossming bough: O, these are the sweets which the rustle greets. As he follows the Good Old Plough.

Fail many there be that we daily see, With seifish and hollow pride, Who the ploughman's lot, in his humble cot, With a scornful look deride;

But I'd rather take, a hearty shake From his hand than to wealth I'd bow, For the honest group of his hand's rough chap, Has stood by the Good Old Plough-All honor be then to those gray old men,

When at last they are bowed with toil,

Their warfare then o'er, they battle no more, For they've conquered the stubborn soil; And the charlet each wears, in their silver bai And ne'er shall the victor's brow, With a laurel crown to the grave go down

Carrot Raising.

Much attention is also beginning to be given by our farmers, to the raising of root crops, of which the carrot takes precedence. Perhaps you will recollect that I wrote you. fair [average yield. From the Evening Post.

The War on the Birds. I am pleased to see public attention drawn to the subject of protocting birds. Of late years the ornamental trees in our parks and streets have been denuded of their foliage almost as soon as the leaves unfold themselves, and instead of being beautiful objects in nature they are positive nuisences. Why is this so! Trees are not similarly affected in the country. I answer, it is because we destroy and persecute the birds. Observe the little wren, how cunningly she peers and peeps into the expanding leaves and flowers, hopping from twig to twig. She is in pursiut of those fell destroyers; her quick eye penetrates their retreat; she sees them, drags them from their lair, and in an instant puts them beyond the power of doing further mischief. Excellent economists, well worthy of our protecting care!

To save my roses I am obliged to perform the service so much better and effectually performed by them. A little rain came last week and assisted for a short time, but I observed in the next lot a boy with a trap cage, and my assistance had left the garden. I dont know that he had oeen taken prisoner, but what withs tones and traps, bird stands a poor chance. Let a stop be put to this persecution; make it a penal offence to kill or catch birds, and, in order to encourage domestic relations, put up wren-boxes in your gardens. They will be quickly tenanted; they love the society of men and to be tenderly cared for. Encourage their presence by kindness; they will work for you in return; forbid your children stoning them, and advise other people's children to the same purpose.

The people of no other country in the world. are so barbarous and cruel in their warfare upon birds as the people of this. The little sparrows are found in great numbers in every village and city of Euorpe; no one even disturbs them, and among the Turks so tame are even wild sea-birds that they will scarcely move from the prow of the light caique; and shall we

It should be repeated while the fly is found to exist. One ounce is found to be sufficient for six acres; Another and perhaps equally efficacious, remedy, is so soon as the fly is discovered, or the plant shows a disposition to open its flowerets, to carry around the patch of wheat strongl ights at night, the d rker the better. ### SABBATH READING.

A . MOTHER'S INFLUENCE.

In England, some years ago, a man presented himself before a body of clergymen to be examined, that he might be licensed to preach the Gospel. His advantages for study had not been very great, and he had fears that he could not sustain himself, and answer the questions which he knew would be proposed. With a trembling heart he stood up before his fathers and brethern. and one of them asked him with whom he had studied divinity. The young man was somewhat confused at this question, for he knew very well that he had not enjoyed the instruction of any distinguished divine; and he replied, with hesitation, "My mother taught me the Script-

"Ab," said the minister who asked the question, "mother can do great things." The examination then proceeded, and the result was delightful proof that mothers may be good teachers of theology; that the truths implanted by their early instructions, watered by their pious tears, and sanctified in answer to their prayers, will bear precious fruit after many days.

This candidate for the ministry was found to be mighty in the Scriptures, and most gladly was he commissioned to go forth and preach the word to his fellow-men.

So is the night of sorrow and mourning; it settles down upon us like a lonely twilight at the grave of our friends, but then already they shine on high. While we weep, they sing. THE Shepherd.

The only child of a father and mother who lived a godless life, was taken from them by death. They not only sorrowed as those who have no hope, but even expressed their displeasure at the visitation of God, and asked their pious minister why God, seeing he is love himself, had taken from them their only child The man of God promised to give them an answer in the funeral discourse, and he gave it in the following words:

"You wished to know, from me, why God has taken your child from you. Well then: he wished to have with him in heaven at least one of your family. You old people would not go in, and had he allowed your child to remain in this world, ye would not have allowed him to go in.

"Hear, moreover, a parable. There was a good shepherd who had prepared choice food in his sheepfold, but though he opened wide his door, the sheep would not enter. He labored long to drive them in but they always turned back from the open door. He thereupon took a lamb and carried it before, when the old ones speedily followed. "The good shepherd is Christ, the open door is heaven, the lamb your chila. If you have the heart of parents, run after it! The Lord carries the lamb before, in order that the sheep may follow! Amen."-From the German O'The devil," says Luther, "held a great anniversary, at which his emmissaries were convened to report the result of their several missions." "I let loose the wild beasts," says one, "on a cerevan of Christians, and their bones lie bleaching on the sand."-"What of that," said the devil, "their souls were all saved." "I drove the east wind," said another, "against a ship freighted with Christians, and they were all drowned."-"What of that," said the devil, "their souls are all saved." "For ten years I tried to get a Christian to steep," said a third, "and I succeeded, and left him so." "Then the devil shouted," continues Luther, "and the night stars of hell sang for joy."

CHEWING TOBACGO IN CHURCH .- The tollowing lines, it is said, were posted up in a church in Massachusetts. We opine they would not be out of place in some churche hereabouts. Chewing in church is not pre cisely the pink of etiquette, especially when one is seated in a curpeted pew, with no spittoon near. But to the poetry:

"Ye chewers of the noxious weed, Which grows on earth's most cursed sod, Be pleased to clean your fittly mouth Outside the sacred church of God.

Throw out your 'plug' and 'Cavendish, Your 'tail,' and 'twist,' and 'honey dew,' And don't presume to spit upon The palpit, aisle, or in the pew."

Nervous Disorders Are diseases of the mind as well as of the body, are usually brought on by troubles and affliction, and are must common to persons of delicate constitutions and sensitive minds. Low spirits, melancholy, frightful dreams, and learful anticipations of evil from the slight est causes, generally accompany nervous disorders.—The Forest Wine and Pills are an energetic remedy in these complaints.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Joseph C. Paulding, dated Philadelphia, Sept. 7th, 1848. Dn. G. W. HALSEY:
Dear Sir, Your Forest Wine and Pills have cured my wife of a dreadful Nervous disorder, with which she had been affected for many years. Her body was almost wasted away. She was f a juently disturbed in her wasted away. She was I squently disturbed in her sleep by rightful dreams, awakening quite exhausted and covered with perspiration, and at times laboring under the delusion that something dreadful was about to happen to her. By the use of four bottles of the wine, and a box of the Pills, she is now in perfect health.—She has regained her flesh and color, and enjoys society as well as ever.

J. C. PAULDING. DR. DAVID MARVIN, a celebrated practitioner of New York, declared publicly, that one butle of Halsey's For-est Wine contained more virtues than fifty of the large bottles of Sarsaparilla. Messrs. S. S. LAMPMAN & Co.,

one of the largest and most respectable Driggists in Syr acuse, in a letter, say: "From what they have heard & seen of Haisey's Forest Wine, it is an exclent and good medicine, and will undoubtedly become the leading medmedicine, and will undoubtedly become the leading medicine of the day."

The Forest Wine is put up in large square bottles, with Dr. Halsey's name blown in the glass; $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5 Gum-coated Pills, 25 Cents per box. Its immediate reference is to allay all irritation and gently remove the phloga and other morbid secretions from the Throat and Air-Passages, thus relieving the Cough, by substang the affarmation and other causes which give rise to it. It also stimulates and imparts a healthy tone to the Lungs themselves, thereby enabling them mere thoroughly to remove from the blood those impurities and diseased particles, which, if relained, do so much mischief in the system, and lays the foundation for incurable CONSUMPTION. It also extra a decided action upon the skin, and assists nature in expelling through the Exhalents, much of that morbid matter which would other wise be thrown back upon the Lungs, thus relieving them of a part of their work, and rendering the system pure and healthy. When tubercles are forming, it checks their development and further pruggess; or ifulceration has taken piace, it assists the lungs in throwing off the corrupted matter, soothes the irritation, heals the ulcerated cavities, and restores them again to healthy action. This medicine, therefore, is not a palliative merely, which only relieves for the time being, but is a monotone curative, as it atrikes at the very root of the disease, and by removing it removes at once all its remote and attendant consequences. TESTIMONY FROM OHIO.

John Hoppman, Jeromesville, Ohio, May 30th, 1853 said: "I write to state for your satisfaction, and also for that of others, that your German Bitters is what your recommend it to be, a highly valuable medicine, which I know from having used it in my own family to my entire satisfaction. All who have used it give the same recommendation."

Staphen A. Mealy, Canton, Ohio. May 11, 1853, says: "Having heard your German Bitters highly recommended from sources in which I placed much confidence, I ordered four bottles from Cleveland. One of them I gave to my daughter who has derived great banefit from it; two of the others I soid immediately, and I would like you to send me a supply of it to sell."

John Clark, Brunswick, Ohio, May 20, 1854, says:—"Your German Bitters have proved successful in every case that has come to my knowledge, and has opened for itself a great demand."

Thomas Larenvond, Covington, Ohio, December 27th, 1853, says: "My wife has been affected with the Liver complaint and Dyspepsis for a number of years, during which time I have spent a great deal for doctoring, but she received vary little benefit therefrom, and finally, the doctors said she could not be cared. Last spring she concluded to try your Bitters, she took two bottles and ever since taking them she has been able to attend to her business, until very lately she had a new attack, but has again commenced the Bitters. I have sold quite a number of bottles through her recommendation, and as far as I can learn, it has given satisfaction to all."

Davis Assorr Austinsburg, Ohio, "December 5, 1853, says: Fermit me to bear testimony to the remarkable efficacy of your German Bitters in the cure of Liver complaint. For years previous to taking it, I was severely afflicted with disease of the Liver, so much so that I did not expect to live, but by a free use of the Bitters, thanks to a kind Providence, I find myself entirely restored to be slit and able to resume my usual employ ment."
